Fishman plainly resents what he considers a hint at an attempt to interfere with the absolute blockade of Germany.

Meanwhile, in spite of the sinking of four British merchantmen involving the loss of four lives, Great Britain still holds out for declaring the blockade to Germany to be contraband. It is in this step it is taken it will be decided whether the blockade is to be maintained.

That what this project means to the public both here and in Berlin is unarguable, its only consolation has been the danger that Great Britain will reserve the right to declare food contraband at any time.

That Germany, it is necessary, especially as Germany's so-called blockade has been enforced with all the power Germany has at her command for a week past.

BAPTIST MEN'S MEETING TURNED INTO REVEL

Dr. Chapman's Sermon and Old-Time Songs Stir Audience to High Pitch

BY REV. ALEX. W. BAKER.

Business and religion, how business can best be transacted by the church, how religion can best be brought into the home, these were the subjects of the meeting.

The meeting was not entirely devoted to commercial talk, for just before the close, business discussion was forgotten, a regular old-fashioned revival, in which many were on the verge of shouting.

At 12 o'clock Dr. J. Wilber Chapman, by special request, addressed the convention. He was accompanied by Charles M. Alexander and Mr. Brown, who led the singing of hymns.

Dr. John E. White was presented in a new role, that of a singer. He was called to the stand by Mr. Alexander and completed a trio to start the song.

"I shall join in that white-robed throng; I shall sing redemption's song at the throne."

led by Mr. Alexander, Mr. Brown and the singing congregation joined in the song until the words were learned.

Dr. Chapman made a very earnest appeal for the men of the meeting to go home and begin to do personal work for God. That was needed more than anything else.

These men Georgia would be set on fire.

The service closed with the old song, "Amen and My Savior Bleed," led by Mr. Alexander.

HIGH WATER MARK

The meeting reached high water mark during the Thursday morning session.

The whole session was devoted to stress the need for putting business into all religious matters.

Dr. Clark, the Modestie church, presided over the meeting. In opening he made some very striking suggestions.

The hymn "The Church is the Body of Christ" was sung to the parting of the ways, he said.

There must be some sacrifice on the part of the church, he said, if it was really fighting the devil. If some of the preachers would begin to do personal work for God, the hymn would cut off one which it would go far toward solving our financial problems.

The laymen would cut down the gasoline bill, the debt on the board would be wiped off. If the Baptist laymen would cut down the gasoline bill, the debt on the board would be wiped off.

THE GREEN PROVERB

That dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, are mostly due to a contagious disease is now recognized by dermatologists everywhere.

A notable demonstration was by Dr. Laessle and Bishop. Took dandruff scales from the head of a student who was itching his hair and having made a pomade of them with vasoline, rubbed the same upon a volunteer, and the pie became bald. (See Geo. Thomas Jackson, M. D., on diseases of the skin, 4th edition).

The success of Newbro's Herpicide in the eradication of this contagion is quite extraordinary. Neglect and delay only add to the trouble. Begin today with Herpicide and watch the improvement.

"MY HEALTH IS PERFECT"

So Says A North Carolina Lady In Telling What She Owes to Cardui, The Woman's Tonic

Mr. A. H. N. C. Mrs. Ada Hall, of this place, says: "About six years ago I got in very bad health. I suffered terrible pains in my abdomen and had been drawn to see the sun and I desired to see it, for I suffered such agony. No one except myself will ever know how badly I suffered. A doctor said I was suffering as a result of the menopause."

As nothing gave me any relief, I asked the doctor if I hadn't better try Cardui. He said, "It might help you, and told my husband to get me a bottle. At this time I was so weak I could not lift my head, and my voice was so weak, people had to lean to hear the bed to hear what I said. I looked so bad and had such a dark color that I looked like a dead woman, and my relatives thought I would never get up again."

I took one bottle of Cardui and it relieved the pain and suffering so much that my husband got another bottle, and that improved me still more. I began to strengthen and gradually got well. I have now been years, and I have taken no medicine since, and I feel as perfect as ever."

Cardui is the finest medicine a woman can use."

PROGRESS OF MEDICINE WORK IS SET FORTH

Baptist Laymen Hear Addresses of Noted Leaders in Affairs of Church

BY REV. A. W. READER.

The Wednesday evening session of the men's meeting was presided over by Dr. W. W. Starnes, who in his address opened the meeting by speaking briefly on "The World Spirit." He called attention to the great advances made in the last 100 years in religious matters and then showed that we had hardly touched the edge of the problem. He showed that there were great untapped forces in this day than ever before in the history of the world.

Rev. W. A. Tallaferro, speaking for the laymen, discussed the movement to raise a million and a quarter dollars to build school houses and chapels in the foreign lands, said that he was very sure that the laymen would be a follower of Jesus. A young preacher went into a shop about 100 years ago and found a man who was sitting at a table, and he asked him to see how his work was served him. He said, "I could be as happy as you are engaged in secular work."

Disregard "PANIC." Mr. Tallaferro laughed at the idea of men presiding over the men's meeting, but said that the panic was on. No preacher ought to be afraid of a panic.

Over in Alabama there was a poor man named John. His children were more than his toes were sticking out of his shoes. He was very poor. One day he was sitting at a table, and he said, "I could be as happy as you are engaged in secular work."

Mr. Tallaferro said every preacher ought to be like that. He said, "I could be as happy as you are engaged in secular work."

MAYOR THREATENS TO HOLD UP TEACHERS' PAY

Clash With School Board Over Normal School Salaries Expected Thursday

Mayor Woodward is expected to clash with the board of education over salaries for teachers at the Normal Training school when the board meets Thursday afternoon.

The finance committee of the board in making up its salary lists for the month included the salaries for teachers at the Normal Training school, and the committee's list will likely be adopted by the board Thursday.

Mayor Woodward contends that in cutting $4,500 from the school appropriation, the board has acted unreasonably. He said that the salaries of the normal school teachers were the ones to be eliminated.

Mayor Woodward declares it is the duty of the school board to declare the school to be a public institution and he will refuse to sign checks for their salaries. The normal school is not a public institution, he said.

"Under no circumstances," he said, "will I sign warrants for the payment of the salaries of the normal school teachers. The checks are made out to cover the salaries of all the other teachers, including the normal school teachers, and I will hold up the whole business."

It is not probable, however, that the checks will be made out to cover the salaries of all the other teachers, including the normal school teachers, and I will hold up the whole business."

The board's resolution, which has been leading the fight to keep the normal school, declares the board of education is the board of the normal school, and it does not believe the mayor has the right to interfere with the board's action.

The mayor and Alderman Armstrong are both ex-officio members of the board of education. The mayor is expected to attend Thursday's meeting.

3,000 MEN AND WOMEN BARE SINS IN PRAYER

"Tell Sins to God, Not Me" Pleads Dr. Chapman

"What is your sin? Don't tell me; tell Him. Stop a moment in the hush and tell Him."

There were no sob, no hallooing, no groans and cries when Dr. J. C. Chapman uttered that sentence in the Peachtree tabernacle Wednesday night: "Tell Sins to God, Not Me."

The audience listened with great interest to the talk of Dr. J. C. Chapman, head of the physical work of the national Young Men's Christian association; they sang inspired under the leadership of Mr. Alexander; they were touched by the prediction of contentment and peace, which they were thrilled by the promise of forgiveness and content.

LOOK Then Leap

This company's profits are concerned with the proposed inauguration here of "jitney" buses. We state that frankly.

But set it aside.

How are YOU concerned? That's the question.

If you live in Atlanta or its suburbs, you are concerned very much—be you man, woman or child.

We want to impress that on you and then invite you to join us in a very respectful and open suggestion to the authorities that they prescribe now, in advance, regulations to control the innovation.

First, you are interested in the matter of pavements. Our own cars run on rails and wear out no pavement; yet we pay a generous proportion of all paying costs on streets where our tracks are laid. Automobile buses will impose very heavy wear on pavements. Those pavements are yours. You pay a share of their cost. You renew them. Shall the "jitney" bus contribute nothing for their maintenance?

Second, you are interested in the matter of street traffic. Eight buses of ordinary size would be required to carry as many passengers as one street car accommodates. Multiply the automobiles downtown; pour 'em into the main thoroughfares that already are overcrowded; dump 'em in on the rush-hour throngs; then you have the possible new conditions. Should that congestion be regulated in advance?

Third, you're interested in a potential menace to morality. Inevitable consequences have aroused mothers' associations, women's clubs, to urgent demands for protection of women and children. Newspapers have told of these things—of insult and mistreatment incited by the intimacy and informality of the "jitney" bus ride, and the irresponsibility of the "jitney" bus driver.

Sixth, you're interested in actual money losses to the public revenue. For instance, the city gets a part of every nickel we collect—a tax on gross revenue, additional to other taxes. If the nickels are paid to someone else who gives no share to the city, the public treasury loses. Shall the principle of taxation be applied impartially?

Seventh, you're concerned with the possible impairment of our existing street car service. If we lose money, naturally we can't afford to make extensions. They've been stopped altogether in several cities. If still we lose, it's logical that we must curtail expenses elsewhere, perhaps by abandoning unprofitable lines—and that means the "long-haul" lines into outlying sections. If revenue still doesn't pay expenses, extraordinary measures are necessary, such as higher fares to outlying sections. The deficit on "long-haul" lines is paid now (and only partially paid, in some instances) by the profit of the "short-haul" lines. That profit is the cream of the street transportation business. And without it there couldn't be any skimmed milk. Shall that cream be taken away and its benefits denied you?

There you have seven sensible reasons why Atlanta should proceed in this matter with full thought of future consequences. The community should look, first.

"Jitney" buses were novelties. Now the novelty is wearing off. Regulations to control the buses are being shaped in many cities—but with more difficulty than if those regulations had been prepared in advance.

Shall Atlanta look before she leaps?

BEAUTY DOCTOR TELLS SECRETS

Detest Blemish Don't Give Simple Recipe to Darken Gray Hair and Promote Its Growth.

Miss Alice Whitney, a well known beauty doctor of Detroit, Mich., recently gave out the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, promote its growth and make it soft and glossy. To half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store for less than 10 cents. Apply to the hair twice a week, and the desired result will be obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of the hair, relieve itching and scalp diseases, and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair."

Calomel is horrible! Calomel shocks your liver, if bilious

Calomel sickens! Don't lose a day's work! Clean your Liver and Bowels with "Dodson's Liver Tonic."

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver. It causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, it breaks it up. This is why you have such awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out" by your liver is torpid and bowels constipated, if you have headache, dizziness, and bad cold, take the extra-bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the condensed waste matter and poison.

Calomel tonight will straighten you up by morning. It doesn't touch the children. They love Calomel because it gives them a good sleep—never gripe or sickens.—(Adv.)

Growing Children frequently get a food tonic and tissue builder for their good health.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THOMAS W. BURGESS.

Frightened and breathless, running with all his might from shadow to shadow, Happy Jack Squirrel was in despair. He didn't know what to do or where to go. The last time he had run from shadow he had run to Farmer Brown's house, who had just happened to be near, and Farmer Brown's boy had chased Shadow the Weasel away. But now it was too early in the morning for Farmer Brown to be out. Happy Jack Squirrel was just like the rest of us. He has habits, both good and bad. Or he has been in the habit of getting his breakfast at Farmer Brown's house every morning in the week.

By the time Happy Jack reached the doorway Shadow was only a few jumps behind him and he was getting to look to see if the way was clear. There wasn't time for that. Besides, there

An interesting event of Thursday morning will be the second in a series of opera lectures given by Miss Nana Tucker at 11 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's club. In addition to the address, musical selections illustrating the different great arias will add to the interest of the occasion.

Delicious Recipes
Tomato Jelly Salad.
To one can of condensed tomato soup add one can of hot water. Soften one-half package or two tablespoonsful of gelatin in half-cup of cold water. Bring the soup to boiling point, season with salt, pepper and sugar, remove from the fire; add the softened gelatin and stir until it is dissolved. Pour into individual moulds which have been moistened with cold water. China cups or custard cups make excellent moulds. When the jelly is cold, remove from moulds and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise. A delicious salad for a Sunday night supper.

could be no greater danger in front than was almost at his heels. So without looking one way or another, he scampered across the doorway and up the tree. He was just in time. The boy Shadow the Weasel was surprised. He had not dreamed that Happy Jack would come over here. But Shadow is a bold fellow and it made little difference to him where Happy Jack went. At least that is what he thought.

So he followed Happy Jack across the doorway and up the maple tree. He took his time about it, for he knew by the way Happy Jack had run that he was pretty nearly at the end of his strength. "I'll just get out of this tree," thought Shadow, as he started to climb it. He fully expected to find Happy Jack huddled in a miserable little heap somewhere near the top. Just imagine how surprised he was when he discovered that Happy Jack wasn't to be seen. He rubbed his angry little red eyes, and they grew angrier and redder than before.

"Must be a howl up here," some where," he muttered. "I'll just follow the scent of his feet and that will lead me to him."

But when that scent led him out on a branch, he tip of which brushed against Farmer Brown's house, Shadow got an other surprise. There was no sign of Happy Jack. He couldn't have reached the roof. There was no place he could have gone unless Shadow started at a window which was open about two feet.

"He couldn't have," muttered Shadow. "He wouldn't dare. He couldn't have!"

But Happy Jack had. He had gone inside that window.

"Purloined at the source—perfect at the journey's end."

"You won't forget our luncheon tomorrow, will you?"

All the girls you like will be there!"

Interest is increasing in the art exhibition which will commence Monday under the auspices of the Art association at the Atlanta Woman's club. With each day new names are added to the list of exhibitors and several of the paintings to be displayed will attract much attention. The exhibition will continue through the first two weeks in March. Several paintings by Mr. Thomas Porter Miller will be shown and among them will probably be a beautiful portrait recently completed of Mrs. Thomas B. Paine.

Midwinter Meeting of City Federation

Many interesting features attended the midwinter meeting of the City Federation of Women's clubs which was held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Woman's club on Baker street, presided over by Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, president of the city federation.

Mrs. Lumpkin spoke with deep appreciation of the harmonious relation between the clubs in federation commending the splendid work done among the individual organizations which gave reflected splendor to the larger organization. The resolutions as presented to the executive board at its meeting Wednesday morning, were read Thursday morning by Mrs. Price-Smith, and adopted without opposition. The resolutions showed the inclusive work being done by Atlanta women through the many organizations which they represent touching upon industrial lines, night welfare; the unemployed of the city, both men and women, the introduction of a domestic science and manual training course into the grammar schools, better school lunches, and co-operation with the endeavors of the Humane society.

After the secretary's report the following new clubs were voted into the federation: The Travel Study club, the Needlecraft circle, the Atlanta Woman's Missionary association, the Modern Topics club, the Woman's Advisory to the Humane society, and the Atlanta School Improvement association. After the business meeting the large number of women present were addressed by Mrs. Ralph C. Norton, on a Woman's Viewpoint of the Conditions in Europe. Mrs. Norton is possessed of a charming personality and her work in connection with the evangelistic travels of Mr. Chapman and Mr. Alexander, has quickened her observation which lent a vividness to the actual occurrences told of in Europe and the war zone through which she has just passed.

TRADE BODIES PLAN LABOR REVIVAL MEET

Lovely New Blouses

Take Possession of the Waist Section

There is much to be seen and to be admired in the waist section right now.

The new blouses are here in such variety, such charming variety that must please the woman in search of the different, the out-of-the-ordinary.

Where to begin the telling of it all!

There are crepe de chine waists that should be told of first because they are so splendidly practical.

There are Georgette crepe blouses that should be told of first because they are so exquisitely dainty and fine.

There are embroidered nets heavy with hand work; there are waists of sheerest voiles showing masses of laces, and dimity and organdie waists as light and cool as a breeze—after all, it remains for you to see the things as they are—it is a newly beautiful display, something better, more diversified than we've ever done. As one woman told us yesterday, "Your waists are prettier by far than any I have seen."

But—to list a few at prices that have already become very popular, because the values have proven to be most unusual.

At $2.25 Crepe de chine blouses. Six styles to choose from. One of the prettiest has rows and rows of pin tucks down the front; another has an embroidered design with hemstitched tucks forming a coat effect—the new high-low collars, roll collars. In maize, flesh and white.

At $3.45 Crepe de chine, plain shades of maize, gold, flesh and white and striped—all washable. One style has a cluster of buttons on a hemstitched vest; another shows broad box tucks down the front. The collars may be worn buttoned close around the neck, or turned back low.

At $5.00 AND $5.75— A beautiful variety of plain and embroidered crepe de chine and striped pussy willows waists—groups of narrow tucks, broad box pleats. Many are so plain that they must appeal strongly to the woman who prefers the "tailorish" style. In maize, flesh, putty, gray and white.

we have not told of the infinite variety of inexpensive lingerie waists, the kinds women will soon be wanting by the half dozens—priced at $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and upwards—nor have we told of the rare and lovely "orchids" of this flower garden—the wondrous net and lace and hand done embroidered affairs—indeed, there's much to be seen right now!

MODERN CONVENIENCES PLANNED FOR CONVICTS

Shower Baths and Club Rooms
Included in Equipment of Portable, "Cages"

Shower baths with hot and cold water, club rooms with books and magazines, compressed air water pumping system, comfort of the greatest possible kind—these are the innovations planned for Fulton county convicts with the portable cars which will be installed at one of the camps this spring.

Specifications and prices of these features have been drawn up at the direction of the public works committee of the board of county commissioners, and will be presented for its approval at a meeting at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The committee, composed of W. Tompkins, chairman; Oscar Mills and T. J. Lightfoot, Jr., decided some time ago to install the portable cars, called "cages" by some. While this decision met with protest from certain quarters and has resulted in bulletins from the Men and Religion Forward Movement, the committee went ahead with its plan.

When specifications were made and bids submitted, all of the latter were rejected and within the past two days the committee has had drawn up its own special ideas for the cars. Chief Engineer J. B. Evans, Superintendent of Public Works W. A. Hannel, Jr., purchasing agent C. M. Holland and Warden Charles H. Girardeau got together, consulted the committee's ideas, and have made diagrams which they think will be approved at Thursday's meeting.

FIRST AT SANDY SPRINGS.
It is proposed to install the new portable cages first at the Sandy Springs camp, fourteen miles out the Roswell road. First moving the camp further out. This probably will be done within the next three weeks.

One of the committee's ideas is a new shower bath tent, with three shower stalls drawing hot and cold water by means of a pumping system. The installation of the baths will cost $10, and the county already has three pumping systems at the Adamsville camp, which will be used at Sandy Springs. These pumping systems are worked by running up a stream near the camp and running the water through an elaborate pumping arrangement.

The four portable cars for sleeping purposes will cost $465 apiece. They will be made of iron, and in which will be a table books and magazines for the convicts. This tent may also be used for religious services.

MANY AUTOMOBILISTS PAY STATE LICENSE

More money was received in the secretary of state's office Wednesday than for any day in its history. Exactly $1,686 was received. Practically all of it was for automobile licenses and the greater portion came from outside of Atlanta. More than 1,500 automobile numbers were issued at $5 each.

Secretary Cook is kept busy endorsing checks and money orders Saturday is the last day on which automobiles can be operated under 1914 licenses. Those who fail to take out new licenses before Monday will be subject to prosecution in the state courts.

"WHAT'S WRONG, GIRL?

Boxers Ready For Fistic Bout

Both Whitney and Abel Express Confidence in Ability to Win—Each in Good Shape

That faithful little title, "Atlanta's Favorite," in fistic circles, is set to be before millions at the big theater, and there is going to be one grievously disappointed lightweight boxer in the neighborhood.

Unless it turns out a draw—and in that event both Frank Whitney and Abel will be good and sore, because if two boys ever were out to win a fight, these are the two.

The story really is a big one—the opportunity to get on in Atlanta with the very best men in the class; Duke Isoscher of Manhattan, in prospect for the winner. And besides that, the evening's entertainment is not bringing together a couple of roommates in a "brother act." It is a grudge fight from the start and the fun is going to fly from tongue to tongue, or over a couple of prophetic ears, in a hole tomorrow and pull the holes in after them.

Whitney finished his training yesterday and is resting today. Abel came from Chattanooga early this morning and will take a good rest before the show. He wound up his work yesterday also, and the brief train ride is nothing to take the edge off what both Jack White and Terry Nelson are in perfect condition. They are picking like a team, and Whitney's measure in the ring is not a matter of doubt.

In fact, both boys are supremely confident. They have come across with the customary stances, and there is no hint of an aitch in either. Here they are:

Abel: I held Whitney to a draw when I was just a kid. I am twenty-one now, and heavier, and can hit harder, and I know more of the game. If I can't beat him now I'll be ready to quit the business. Anyway, I will have no excuses to offer.

Frank Whitney: I am in the best condition of my career, and I expect to stop Abel this time. I don't think he can hurt me in ten rounds, or over any distance. And I don't expect the fight to reach the limit.

The card begins at 8:30 o'clock and the bouts will be put off until the intermissions of delay, the management states. Mike Saul will be in the ring with the men as referee in the main event, but he will have nothing to say concerning the fight, the contents of which are given by the three Atlanta sporting editors.

Mike Saul will be in the ring with the men as referee in the main event, but he will have nothing to say concerning the fight, the contents of which are given by the three Atlanta sporting editors.

Jack Curley, promoter of the proposed bout at Juarez, announced from Juarez last night that he would leave today for Havana, where Johnson is now. He said that his trip to Cuba did not necessarily mean the transfer of the fight to Havana.

However, he ventured no prediction as to the outcome of the already indicated situation. Curley's announcement followed receipt of a cablegram from Johnson, the contents of which were not given out.

League Tonight BY GRANTLAND RICE

JOHN HENRY WAGNER.
(Born at Carnegie, Penn., February 24, 1874.)
He leads no mighty army to the field; He wears no fiery tunic by hill or plain; He wears no flashing sword or shining shield To hold his place amid the crimson rain. He sends no shrieking shrapnel down the lead; He aims no blighting Siege Gun at the wall; But at the end his epitaph shall be—"Here rests the noblest German of them all."

For eighteen driving seasons with his clan He has held his place of honor in the sun; A batsman—and a fielder—and a MAX, Complier of the hit and of the run; A credit to the well known human race, Where Time will some day write above his place—"Here stands the grandest player of the game."

WAGNER'S BIRTHDAY.
John Henry Wagner, better known as Honus the Hittite, has never saved his country nor perhaps lost as many as one slave, but for all that he comes fairly close to deserving a birthday of eminent renown.

Yesterday was John Henry's forty-first birthday, and yet, beginning his nineteenth season under the Big Tent, there isn't a recruit in the game as keen to start south and begin warming up. John Franklin Baker has wearied of the pastime after seven years, whereas Wagner has not thought of quitting after eighteen years in harness.

CONSIDERABLE RECORD.
When the Flying Dutchman has played in sixty-eight games this season he will have a record to his credit that has touched in big league play. And this record will be active participation in 2,650 major league battles. Pop Anson lasted twenty-two years, but Pop only played in 2,650 games. As set down in the records, Wagner has already reeled off 2,432 battles, with a good chance to verge upon 3,000 before he ceases firing and marches out with all the honors of war.

In addition to his wonderful ball playing, Wagner has been one of the finest types that ever flashed the green turf with his pikes. He has played no finer example of big league ideals, unbroken courage, unwavering loyalty and clean sportsmanship. In this age of money-jut and so-called temperance he has stood apart with a few others who have kept the spirit of the old game still under way.

THAT'S ALL.
"Wah," says Jack Willard's lively press agent, "did Wellington ever beat before he was downed Napoleon at Waterloo?" Well, for a starter, he went to Spain with a small English army and decisively beat three of the finest marshals Napoleon had in several of the best campaigns passed on down to history. What's the next query?

TEXAS LEAGUERS.
The game player is too often penalized with an error for going after a chance that a quitter wouldn't try for. The half-bit pop-out drops safe where the long line smash is caught.

WE'LL TAKE 4,000 SHARES.
Dear Sir: I am sending you a prospectus of a little enterprise which George Ade and I are about to introduce at the Bellevue Country Club. We think there ought to be a good thing in it. Do you care to subscribe for a few shares of non-assessable common at par.

THE PROSPECTUS inclosed follows. The Willing Ears Co., Ltd., begs to announce the latest refinement in Golf Luxury. Won't the other fellow listen?

Or, rawther, 'phone for one of our gentlemen representatives. You can tell him all about it; from the first slice off the home tee on through the hard luck yard and in bygone times, to remember until you finally laid 'er dead for a six on No. 18.

He'll listen, will our G. R. Listen, with both sides of his head. He will show sympathy for topped approaches, appreciate the miracle of the 20-foot putt and applaud the way you braided to the green on the sixteenth. In other words, he is on his job. Hourly rates quoted on application to the General Manager.

THE WILLING EARS CO., LTD.
We notice from the above that "hourly rates" will be quoted. Is there any reduction for wholesale lots of weekly or monthly rates? We know of at least four golfers who would be willing to engage such a representative for a three-year contract, eight hours a day and only every other Sunday off.

A TIP.
If Havana fight promoters are out after an interesting little bout we can slip them a tip that might round a pleasant evening, viz: P. Welsh vs. W. Ritchie for forty-five rounds.

STRICTLY PERSONAL.
No. 17.—A ripping suggestion, old timer, but we have a hazy hunch it might be better promoted by a private campaign that didn't involve the use of the U. S. mails.

Here's a tip that a number of our eminent athletes might take into consideration: Hans Wagner was forty years old last season, and yet worked in 150 ball games, missing only four contests from April to October. It might be just as well for them to remember this and ponder just why it is that Honus is rated as the most valuable athlete that ever entered the grand old frolic.

League to Elect Pres. Next Week

Acting President Crawford Announces That Meeting Will Be Called Shortly—Choice in Doubt

LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 25.—W. T. Crawford, of Shreveport, acting president of the Southern Association of Baseball clubs, announced here last night that he would call a meeting of the league for either Wednesday or Thursday of next week for the purpose of electing a successor to Judge W. M. Kavanaugh who died here Sunday afternoon. The meeting will probably be held in this city. Many of the club owners and directors of the league attended the funeral services of Judge Kavanaugh here yesterday.

So far no word could be learned today as to yet developed which would indicate the certain choice of any one of the possibilities for the league's chief executive. Captain Crawford has announced that he will not stand for election, and President E. H. Baugh, of the Birmingham club, has also stated that his business connections make it practically impossible for him to accept the office. Others have been mentioned in various quarters as likely choices. However, nothing definite in their favor has been given out.

White Battles Welsh Tonight
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 25.—Fredie Welsh, world's heavyweight champion, and Charlie White, Chicago aspirant to the title, are ready for their ten-round no decision contest in 240 minutes tonight.

While no decisions are permitted under Wisconsin law, should White knock out his opponent he would win the title. Articles of agreement, call for 150 pounds at 2 o'clock this afternoon. When the two met here several months ago Welsh had the advantage of several pounds in weight, and a majority of sporting writers at the time awarded him the decision. White claims to grab the signals of the fight, and he will render a better account of himself, while Welsh says that at the light of weight he will be faster than before.

Schwartz Trades Catcher Gibson
LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 25.—Announcement was made here last night that the local baseball club had completed a deal with the Nashville club, whereby they purchased pitcher from the Pirates and traded Howard Baker and Pler to the Pirates for pitcher from the Pirates.

Both Baker and Melrod were with the Montgomery club last season. Manager Gibson was the middle of the deal. The club of the New England league, while Melrod was signed with a free agent about the middle of the season, Gibson was with Nashville during the 1914 season and had been with the club last year, after having been turned back by the Detroit club.

Classes Prepare for Baseball at Emory
EMORY COLLEGE, Oxford, Ga., Feb. 25.—The four Emory baseball teams have prepared for the approaching baseball season by electing their managers. The teams are: Juniors, Bonnie Banks of Granville; Sophomores, W. F. Hendrix of the University of Georgia; Seniors, Charles D. Dandridge, Ala. The Seniors will probably elect their manager within the next few days.

The four professors who will coach the teams are: Coach of the Juniors, Stipe; Juniors, E. K. Turner; Sophomores, C. J. Strang; Freshmen, J. B. Post. The four teams will start their better Weber athletic field will be the most strenuous preparation for the opening of the season.

Wright's Team Beats L. & N. Bowlers
The second match in the local bowling league was played on the Crystal alleys last night, and resulted in a victory in three straight games for Wright's team. The latter also had the high strike game with 200. Rather had high average for the league, and also the high single game with 225. The Southern Bell team meets the Crystals Friday night.

Schaefer Joins Feds
NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Hermann Schaefer, former pitcher of the Washington Americans has signed a two-year contract with the Federal league and has been assigned to the New York team. Federal headquarters announced today.

The News BY INNIS BROWN

When a solid 200 hitter quits the game in his very prime, it is occasion to do a bit of gossiping, and baseball fans, and sport writers, the country over are surely taking the cue in the case of Frank Baker. In a line of conversation is to the effect that Baker does not propose to give up baseball just yet, but that he is averse to playing longer with the Athletics, and that his proposed retirement is a scheme projected to enable Connie Mack to trade him, and still hold a good will of Quaker City fans, after disposing of their idol.

That's a rather deep-seated conspiracy if it is true. And possibly it is true, but if it is, then there must be some trouble of a strangely peculiar nature that the Athletics boss would go to the trouble to hatch out such a subterfuge for trade or sell his star slugger, rather than give out the exact why and wherefore of his action.

Course if Baker stays in retirement the fact will spike all of the rumors of such a conspiracy. But he answered the call within the next few weeks and joins some other club on a sale or trade, the real facts will doubtless leak out sooner or later.

The mere mention of a possibility that Baker may not retire after all has created a row of comment and speculation from scribblers in other American league cities. Some cherubic scribbler spread a report that Honus Frank was a likely addition to the forces of the Yankees. Both Riskey and Mack nailed the report as soon as it got around. The title was finally checked the arder of Mound City scribbler in figuring just how much Frank would help that club. One writer states that the sum of twenty-five thousand bucks expended for Frank would prove a wise investment.

A headline in one metropolitan daily asserts that "Baker would look good in a blue suit." Undoubtedly the blue bloke who can consistently belabor the sphere for an average better than .300 would not lose all his attractiveness even though disguised as a Highlander.

Here's a new angle on the spot situation. Rabbi Marvinville is quoted as saying that "Baker owes much of his success last season to their ability to grab the signals of the opposition. Manager Stallings says the Rabbi is dreaming. If he made such a statement, this is professional rank. Yet we have heard football players tell proudly of their success in picking up the signals of their opponents during a game. And this in amateur ranks.

University of Pennsylvania athletic coaches are at a verge of asking for more time for practice of athletic teams. This is not the first complaint that class room workers frequently interpose. This time the complaint is that the class room workers' diamond or kinder patch activities.

Mike Donahue instituted a new wrinkle in scoring football down at Auburn a few days ago. After the regular football season closes, the Panthers will play several weeks with class games for a class of the school. The title was finally sifted down to where it rested between two teams. This pair played two games, and the winner would then draw from being repeated a third time, Mike decided to score the last game on

Newark Lands Fed. Franchise

Definite Announcement That Kansas City Franchise Will Go to New Jersey City Made by Powers

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Official announcement that the Kansas City Federal league team will be transferred to Newark, N. J., was made today by Tom Powers and Harry F. Sinclair, who recently purchased the franchise. Newark was selected in preference to the Bronx, setting at rest for the time at least, all talk of the Federals leaving the New York territory of the National and American leagues. The fact that Sunday baseball can be played in Newark was a feature that appealed to Powers and Sinclair, although the Federals in the announcement, declared Newark offered other inducements not obtainable in the Bronx. The Newark club will play, not in Newark but in Harrison, where a part of Harrison oval has been purchased, together with adjoining property, by the new owners. It is hoped to have stands to seat 25,000 in April.

The announcement states that George Stovall, leader and first baseman of the Kansas City team last year, will "tag" the Newark team.

"Adonis" Terry Dead
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 25.—William H. Terry, who formerly pitched for Brooklyn and Chicago in the National league and who was widely known to enthusiasts as "the man who won't lose," died here last night.
